

Message From The Principal

End of Term One
Term One disappeared in a flash and we certainly packed in plenty of activities and learning.

College Rebuild
The highlight of Term One was undoubtedly the announcement by the Government that we have been allocated a $50 million rebuild. This will be a lengthy process and the build will have to be in stages, to enable learning to continue uninterrupted as a priority.

At this stage it is likely that the building process will not be finished until approximately 2025. Whilst this is a long way off, the process of designing a facility that will be the pride of Mid Canterbury has started. It will be fantastic to have a fit-for-purpose school.

Community Hui Opportunities
During Term One we had a series of hui in order to allow us to gather feedback from our community, and also creating an opportunity for staff to meet parents and caregivers outside of school. The turnout for these has been variable but the feedback from attendees has been invaluable. My thanks to everybody who gave their time to partake in these consultations. Our Senior Leadership Team and Board of Trustees will make valuable use of your thoughts.

Highlight Events
Last week there were two highlights that need acknowledging. The first of these, our annual Festival of the Spoken Word, was held last Thursday and will be covered in the next newsletter. This is always a fantastic event where public speaking and dramatic performance is encouraged. Like all of our College events, every participant receives positive audience support.

Secondly, there was our Academic Blues Assembly held last Friday, the final day of term. This is a chance to recognise the best of our academic achievers based on the 2018 NCEA results and these also will be outlined in our next newsletter. Because of our desire to have the whole College present, the event is held on the Chessboard, and therefore the occasion is weather dependent. One of the positives for us in the future is to have a space capable of holding the whole College, that is not outdoors.

Anzac Day
Next Thursday is Anzac Day. As part of the town's commemoration our Head Boy and Head Girl both speak at the 11:00am Cenotaph Service. This tradition of our College Head Students speaking has been in place now for a number of years and is a fantastic acknowledgement, by the younger generation, of the sacrifices that their forebears have undertaken during various military conflicts. I am very proud that Mollie Gibson and William Wallis will do Ashburton College proud.

College Winter Uniform
With the cooler weather approaching, can I ask all parents and caregivers to ensure that your child has the appropriate school uniform items as the winter temperatures settle in next term.

Next term we will be undertaking a push to ensure that the correct College uniform is worn, particularly shoes, shirts and jackets. If families are struggling to provide appropriate clothing we can support students to ensure that they are correctly dressed.

End of Term
My thanks for a great term. Because Term One was so busy it is important that staff and learners have a well-earned break.

Principal

Board of Trustees News . . .

College Rebuild
The commitment from our government to rebuild our College is welcome news. While the news is great, there is going to be quite a commitment from the Board of Trustees and College administration to complete this project.

We will also have resources provided by the Ministry of Education to plan, manage and complete the project successfully. This is part of the Ministry of Education process for all schools and, in terms of a rebuild, ensures that College personnel and the Board do not get side-tracked by the build process, but remain focused on our core business of student learning.

Many of our current students will miss out the total completion of this project. As noted by our Principal, Ross Preece, the Ministry target is to have the building project completed by 2025.

It is essential that our students do not have their education and learning experiences at Ashburton College compromised in any way, and this is a factor that the Board and College leadership will be maintaining a strong focus on.

Our campus has plenty of space for the rebuild, with building able to be in areas away from the current campus so that the disturbance on teaching is minimal. The separation of the teaching and building zones will also ensure that the safety of our students and teachers is not compromised.

The College Board and Management are already engaged with the Ministry regarding the rebuild.

In the near future, we will also be engaging with our community about this process to ensure we build a great school that can realise the educational opportunities for the next generations of AshColl students.

Japanese Students' Presentation

The students had prepared for a presentation in Japan and Hiromi said they gave a wonderful presentation at College, to the ESOL (English to Speakers of Other Languages) classes, and to Years 10, 11 and 12/13 Japanese classes. The presentations were about Japanese traditional toys and games, after which AshColl students tried all of the games.

The Japanese students introduced Origami, Kendama, Hukuwarai and Nininbaori. AshColl students

Adding to last week's Summer Tournament Week reports we have the basketball information.

3x3 Basketball National Championship 2019

Held in Tauranga from 27-30 March Ashburton College entered two Junior Boys' and a Senior Girls' team this year. With the introduction of an Elite and Open Division to each age group, College was able to send one of each in the Junior Boys' grades, while the girls' team played in the Elite Senior Division.

Athletes playing throughout the tournament were Sophie Adams, Cathleen Anderson, Charlie Banks, Taryn Douglas, Ella Pearson; Brad Douglas, Henry Hobbs, Jamie Reid, Ethan Reodrique, Riley Sa, Ollie Strawbridge, Jack Withell-O'Grady.

Coach Roasty Douglas; Managers Paula Strawbridge and Tammy Reid.

Results

In a slightly quirky finish, all teams finished 12th in their grades.

The Elite Boys' Team won six games but, however, also lost four games by only one point! While the boys were disappointed by the losses, they were to both finalists and some high-quality opposition. These results bode well for future tournaments, with confidence gained from knowing they are in the same league as top teams.

The Open Boys' Team lost one of their team to injury half-way through Day 2, which meant all three boys played the last eight games, which they did with a lot of courage. Winning half their games and battling some big bodies, finishing 12th out of 20 teams was an awesome effort.

The Senior Girls' Team played aggressively from the first game, winning their first and last games, and pushing teams in all their other games, against teams featuring a number of New Zealand basketball age group and senior level basketballers. It was a great introduction to our younger athletes as they stepped up to senior level.

Acknowledgement

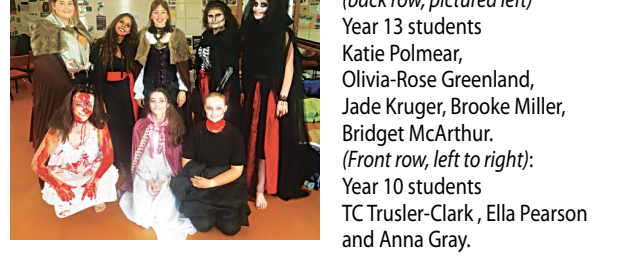

A special mention is given to Taryn Douglas, Year 13 student this year, who signed off her last 3x3 game for Ashburton College. Taryn has been a member of our teams since Year 9, representing the College and herself at a very high level. We wish her all the best with her future basketball endeavours.

Sheilah Winn Shakespeare Festival

This year saw a welcome return of Ashburton College Students taking part in the above annual Festival, where the work of Shakespeare is celebrated and performed.

Jack Hanrahan, former student and new teacher to College this year, was responsible for directing a 15 minute scene from Macbeth.

He tells us that, on Thursday 04 April, College took a team of eight students to the Aoraki Regional Competition held at Craighead Diocesan School, Timaru. Jack said that the team had a good showing and their scenes Act 3, Scene 5; and Act 4, Scene 1; were very well-received by the audience. Although College didn't 'walk away' with victory, which went to Twizel Area School, competing was a worthwhile experience from which the students learnt a lot and, in the future, we hope to continue participating in the event.

had tried Origami and Kendama but, Hiromi said, the Japanese students' Kendama skill was amazing!

Nininbaori is a traditional Japanese game, new to College students, where two players sit together wearing a jacket. The back person can't see the front person and the back person has to feed or put make-up on the front person. We are told that all students enjoyed all the games very much.

The three students have now left to go back to Japan. While here they shared much knowledge about Japan, Japanese language, culture, school life and other information of interest. Our students really enjoyed having them in their Japanese class.
